

HE BELIEVES IN HELL.

His Constituents Seem Inclined to Respect Him for "Big Tom" Foley, Who Stuck to His Pals.

JUSTICE'S EASY DAY IN COURT.

Settles a Family Squabble, Two Dog Bites, a Black Eye and Holds a Prisoner for Assault.

One of the old Tammany leaders most famous for Richard Croker's return is Justice Patrick Divver. Unless Croker's return should cause a new in the matter of the leadership of Tammany Hall, it is confidently expected that Mr. Divver will be elected to the Second District leadership, even if he hangs on to his $3,000 salary as a Police Justice.

It was talked yesterday among Tammany men that the Mayor would within a few days demand Mr. Divver's resignation from the Executive Committee. His from the Executive Committee, his before the Senate Committee, which was to the effect that he had been the constant companion and harbored of thieves and gamblers, if not their backer, together with his unpopularity in his district because of his decision in the case of the "Big Tom" of the law was reaching after them last winter, has, it is claimed, determined the Mayor to get him out.

In the district yesterday there was a great deal of talk about his successor.
A large proportion of the Tammany men in the district are in favor of "Big Tom" Foley, who is one of the strongest men in the Tammany General Committee of the Second District. He is a saloon-keeper on Water street and owns considerable property. He has never held office, but has been active in Tammany politics for years. Last winter, when Divver hurried off to California and his election inspectors and poll clerks were being fined or sent to Sing Sing at the rate of one or two a day, Foley was about the only friend they had. He paid the fines of several, went bond for others, and in other ways befriended the unfortunates. Foley has a warm friend in Henry Campbell, the wealthy Vesey street grocer, who got out of Tammany because he could not be a party to Divver's methods. Campbell is a warm personal friend of Mayor Gilroy. All of this makes the Tammany men of the second believe that Foley will succeed Divver as Justice.

Congressman Edward J. Dunphy, who resigned from the Tammany organization of the Second District because he could not, as an honest man, as he said, remain in the organization under Divver, will have a good deal to say about Divver's successor. The Congressman and Divver are old friends, and there is a little doubt that he will be renominated by Tammany Hall, owing to the fact that he is a native of the district.
Comptroller Fitch and Postmaster Dayton, and that he will go back into Tammany if Divver is elected.

A collection of about two dozen citizens had been waiting outside the courthouse of the Justice yesterday. At 8:30 a. m. the Justice entered the courtroom, and the waiting ones sat within the railing.
The first case was a matter of assault and battery. The defendant was a young man, and the plaintiff was a woman.
The case was heard in about twenty minutes, and the Justice rendered his decision. The plaintiff was awarded damages of $100, and the defendant was fined $10 for contempt of court.

The first trembling prisoner was a man, and the second was a woman.

CASE HIS $300 DOG OVERBOARD.
Mrs. Moss was going to sell her dog when the animal's sickness scared him.
Thomas Moss, a photographer at West Brighton, Coney Island, had a valuable St.
Bernard dog named Nero. He said he was worth $300. Moss decided to sell Nero and advertised him in the newspapers. Many dog lovers who knew the animal answered his advertisement. Yesterday Moss took Nero to this city to show him to a would-be purchaser from Virginia. At Twelfth street and Eighth avenue Nero became ill. Moss treated him and, placing him in a coach, drove to the Bay Ridge ferry to return with him to Coney Island.

On the steamboat Nero had another attack which was so suggestive of hydrophobia that the many passengers became panic-stricken and sought to place as much distance as possible between themselves and the dog. The animal became worse, and finally a violent paroxysm followed. This scared the passengers, who, not knowing what to do, did a lot of nonsense. There goes $300 worth.

Each Mass Was the Park Subside.
The body of the man who committed suicide in Central Park Tuesday night was identified yesterday as that of Jacob Haas, a fine and embroidery merchant, forty-six years old, of No. 48 Clinton avenue, West Hoboken, N. J.
Haas, who made the identification, could give no cause for the suicide.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS Come to you if you're suffering from the messenger in this case is Dr.
Farrar's Favorite Prescription.
It is a tonic and nerve, a remedy prescribed by an eminent physician and specialist for all the peculiar ills and ailments of women.
My daughter, Miss MEKKER, was sick and we called in one of the best doctors here. She got so weak that she could not get out of bed and draw her in a chair. She tried some of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In less than a week she was out of bed and was working about the house again. As for myself I am much better. I am taking the "Favorite" before from catarrhal inflammation.

Waldron K. Post's Engagement to Miss Mary L. Perkins is Announced.
The engagement of Mr. Waldron Kintzing Post and Miss Mary Lawrence Perkins is announced. The prospective bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs.
Charles A. Post, of No. 21 Washington Square, North. He is already quite noted as a litterateur, being the author of several books, and having written plays for the Harvard College Dramatic Club. He is extremely popular socially, and belongs to the Union, Knickerbocker, Bowdoin, University Athletic and other clubs.

He has one brother, Regis Henri Post, and one sister, Mrs. Hamilton Fish Post, who is now at her country seat, Glen Forest, in the town of the best of the word, being noted for her intelligence and brilliancy. She was a Miss De Troisbrant, and her parents, Gen. and Mrs. De Troisbrant, have lived for a great many years in Paris.

Miss Mary Lawrence Perkins is the daughter of Mrs. Charles L. Perkins, who is now at her country seat, Glen Forest, N. J. Miss Perkins is a charming young woman, and a regular in society, and her wedding in the autumn will be one of the most important nuptial events of the season.
